OT Patient Success Stories

Helping Patients live well … live full … love life through occupational therapy

The occupational therapy success stories of our patients are the most powerful tools we can use in advocating for needed patient services and practice regulations and legislation that are reasonable and offer consumer protection. Occupational therapy practitioners do effective work on a daily basis with our patients. Help us document our patients' successes to help in our advocacy efforts. Tell us a brief story about how OT has positively impacted the life of one your patients.
