7:45am-8:30am

Mind-Body Activity: Easy Form Tai Chi D

Barbara Brewer, COTA/L

Tai Chi is a balance activity that tones the body, increases breathing capacity, lowers stress level, improves organ function, and corrects poor posture. This is an energizing way for the body, mind, and spirit to start the day. Come dressed comfortably for the day in attire that allows for free movement. Head off to your sessions energized after Tai Chi. Circle Activity D on the Program Grid.

8:45am-9:45am

The Kawa: Flowing into Behavioral Health and Community Practice (1 PDU) 30

Praveen Injeti, MA, MFT, OT/L; Heather Javaherian-Dysinger, OTD, OTR/L

The Kawa Model is a unique model capturing the interconnectedness and complexity of patients' lives. Strategies to integrate Kawa into behavioral health and community practice will be discussed with examples in evaluation, intervention, and documentation.

8:45am-9:45am

Sensory Processing Tools for the Classroom Setting (1 PDU).....31

Lee-Anne Bloom, MS, OTR/L

As occupational therapy practitioners, we determine compensation strategies and adaptations for children to navigate the world around them. By providing tools and strategies, we can teach the sensory seeking or avoiding child to be successful.

8:45am-9:45am

Exploring the Occupational Needs of Individuals with Psychosis Who Experience Hoarding (1 PDU) ... 32

Erin McIntyre, OTD, OTR/L

A growing body of research highlights the complexities involved in hoarding disorder (DSM-V, 2013) and its impact on an individual's occupational, social, and vocational functioning. Research regarding hoarding disorder is limited, particularly addressing co-morbidities such as psychosis, and there is little evidence describing the role of occupational therapy. The session will present a study conducted in London, United Kingdom at the South London and Maudsley NHS Foundation Trust. The aims of the study were to understand the clinician and service user experience with hoarding disorder in a community mental health team setting, focusing primarily on psychosis related disorders, and to gain their respective views about how they think occupational therapy practitioners could contribute to the treatment and management of hoarding disorder.

8:45am-9:45am

Low Vision for the Geriatric Patient (1 PDU)33

Sabrena McCarley, MBA-SL, OTR/L; Daniel Swiatek, OTR/L

A majority of individuals with low vision are over the age of 65 and are affected by one of three eye conditions: macular degeneration, diabetic retinopathy, or glaucoma. Low vision is a common medical diagnosis that therapists working in skilled nursing encounter with their patients as it affects patients' activities of daily living (ADLs), IADLs, and quality of life.

8:45am-9:45am

An Occupational Therapy Practitioner's Unheard Message: Regaining Confidence (1 PDU) 34

Alexis J. Sobel, MS, OTR/L

This session will identify common barriers when speaking about occupational therapy (OT) skillset and advocacy efforts with interdisciplinary teammates, clients, and caregivers. You will learn techniques to provide a more effective and clear message, while regaining confidence vital to the OT practice.

8:45am-12:00noon

Communication and Collaborative Problem Solving Between Students and Fieldwork Educators (3 PDUs)35

Holly Eck Reed, EdD, MA, OTR/L

In this session, common student issues that occur during level II fieldwork will be explored through viewing video scenarios. These videos will spark discussion on ways to address student performance issues for fieldwork educators. The solutions formulated from these discussions will encourage communication, collaboration, and de-escalation of student issues during level II fieldwork.

8:45am-12:00noon

Demonstrating Value of Occupational Therapy in Bundled Payments (3 PDUs)..... 36

Lisa D. Rodriguez, OTR/L, RAC-CT

Come hear how occupational therapy is demonstrating value as a profession in the recovery of hip and knee replacements under the mandatory Comprehensive Care for Joint Replacement Model.

10:00am-12:00noon

Certification in Pelvic Floor Rehabilitation: A Guide for Occupational Therapists (2 PDUs) 40

Angela Baker, OTD, PhD, MA, OTR/L, CTRS;

Kathryn Powell, MPhil, MAMFT, OTS; Tiffani Washburn, OTS

Occupational therapy practitioners (OTs) are underrepresented in the field of pelvic floor rehabilitation. Incorporating education on pelvic floor, vulnerable populations affected, OT's role, and routes for certification will significantly enhance the future of OT in this area.

10:00am-12:00noon

Developing a Multidisciplinary Service Model for a Non-public School (2 PDUs)41

Lacy Wright, MS, OTR/L; Alexandria Nicks, MS, CCC-SLP;

Lisa Youngblood, MS, CCC-SLP

Occupational therapy practitioners and speech-language pathologists collaborate with teachers and staff to develop fine motor, sensory processing, leisure, communication, and academic skills. Come discuss successful strategies as well as challenges while implementing a multidisciplinary service approach in a non-public school.

10:00am-12:00noon

Nutrition and Exercise for Recovery and Wellness: Weight Loss for Persons with Serious Mental Illness (2 PDUs)42

Deborah Pitts, PhD, OTR/L, BCMH, CPRP

The Nutrition and Exercise for Recovery and Wellness (NEW-R) was developed by Catana Brown, PhD, and colleagues to address the overall health needs of persons labeled with serious mental illness. Research has found that persons with serious mental illness have a shortened life-span of between 10 to 25 years in comparison to their contemporaries. One of several interventions developed in recent years, NEW-R is informed by occupational therapy principles. This session is targeted to current mental health practitioners and students interested in and/or scheduled for a mental health fieldwork and will provide participants with an introduction to this intervention and its evidence.

10:00am-12:00noon

Occupational Therapy Intervention for Individuals with Dementia and Their Caregivers (2 PDUs) 43

Heather Roese, OTD, OTR/L; Heather Javaherian-Dysinger, OTD, OTR/L

This session will focus on the development and implementation of a community-based occupational therapy program for persons with dementia and their family caregivers. Participants will explore the development of care plans to support occupational performance using rehabilitative, habilitative, and compensatory frameworks for this population in various settings. Legacy activities as a means to support identity and allow for meaningful reminiscence between persons with dementia and their families will additionally be addressed.

Use of Cognitive Assessments in Neurological Populations (1 PDU) 50

Lori R. Max, MA, OTR/L

In this session attendees will discuss use of evidence-based cognitive assessments in an acute care setting with neurological populations. Diagnoses and cognitive criteria, which best match the cognitive assessments for the WNSSP, GOAT, SBT, CDT, and EFPT will also be addressed.

1:30pm-2:30pm
Meaningful Occupations of Ethiopian Children with Intellectual Disabilities (1 PDU) 51

Melissa Toporek, OTD, OTR/L (GA), BCP; Abebe Damtew Debay

The purpose of this mixed methods study is to identify and describe the perspectives of Ethiopian adolescents with intellectual disabilities regarding their daily occupations and the meaning they ascribe to those occupations.

1:30pm-2:30pm
Occupation-Based Mindfulness: Decreased Depression in Schizoaffective Disorder (1 PDU) 52

Vikas Sharma, OTD, OTR/L; Eunice Oh, OTS; Irene Nguyen, OTS

Inpatient residents of a secured long-term care facility with schizoaffective disorder as their primary diagnosis participated in a five-week occupation-based mindfulness intervention of breathing, walking, and gardening. The quantitative and qualitative findings showed a decrease in participants' depressive symptoms and an increase in their social participation.

1:30pm-2:30pm
Mobile/Cellphones, Applications (Apps), and Occupational Therapy (1 PDU)..... 53

Shan-Pin Fanchiang, PhD, OTR/L

The lifestyle with mobile/cellphones and apps use is ubiquitous. Occupational therapy practitioners will be able to update their knowledge of mobile/cellphone-related occupational engagement, recognize elements of quality apps, and select quality apps for health and wellness to enhance their practice.

1:30pm-2:30pm
Are We Visionaries? A Centennial Vision Exploration (1 PDU) 54

Mark Petersen, OTD, OTR/L; Amethys Lakilak, OTS

The investigation of the Occupational Therapy Centennial Vision and its implementation in the field of occupational therapy as perceived by practitioners and clients of occupational therapy will be explored. Survey response data from practitioners and clients will be examined to better understand the professional and public perception of occupational therapy.

1:30pm-4:45pm
Fall Prevention in the Community (3 PDUs) 55

Sabrena McCarley, MBA-SL, OTR/L; Daniel Swiatek, OTR/L

This presentation is an overview of evidence-based interventions for occupational therapy practitioners to address falls management, with an emphasis on home safety and balance assessments for high-risk populations. Relevant research will be presented.

1:30pm-4:45pm
Coding Occupational Therapy Services: The Current and Future Status of CPT Codes (3 PDUs) 56

Katie Jordan, OTD, OTR/L

Attendees will learn the status of the American Occupational Therapy Association's CPT Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation (PM&R) code change proposal, learn the underlying reasoning and concepts for change, discuss the implementation of the new occupational therapy evaluation codes, and hear about the updates since the January 1, 2017 implementation.

Student rate does not include lunch on either day for students. Legislative Reception and Sunday lunch are separate fees for OT/OTAs.

Special "2-for-1" Two-Day Registration Rate—How It Works.

Registration forms and completed membership application form(s) for both must be faxed, emailed or mailed together to the OTAC office and reach the office no later than February 3, 2017. "New Member" means an individual who has not been a member since February 2015. Two nonmembers may join and attend together and each receives this discount.

This discount is in lieu of any other incentives/rewards offered by OTAC. Students can partner with another student to qualify. OT/OTAs cannot partner with a student for the discount.

ABOUT YOUR DUES

Contributions or gifts to the Occupational Therapy Association of California (OTAC) are not tax deductible as charitable contributions for income tax purposes. However, they may be tax deductible as ordinary and necessary business expenses except that portion which is allocated to association lobbying activities. OTAC estimates that the non-deductible portion of your OTAC dues—the portion which is allocable to lobbying—is 5%. Five dollars of your dues (except Corporate) is a voluntary contribution to OTAC’s Political Action Committee and may be deducted from the amount due.
